As the use of oral oncolytics continues to rise, the role of patient adherence is becoming increasingly more important.

This presentation explores factors that may impact nonadherence, specifically patients' individual beliefs about treatment and illness, and their experiences with both. It also focuses on deepening the HCP and patient relationship to be able to understand and address each patient's challenges.

RSVP via e-mail to takedarsvp@theselvagroup.com or fax to (800) 660-8857
